Spring Summer 2012 Trends and notes

SPRING IS AROUND THE CORNER SO IT IS TIME.....

to organize your closet so you can PLAN for the season ahead. By thinking about your wardrobe now your transition into spring will be so much easier on your budget and save you time. You will also find that planning ahead will help you to feel so much more stylish this season. Start with a little closet organization. Admit it, you are sick and tired of your winter clothes by this time! I know I am! So I suggest you start looking for pieces that are transitional. Think about layering, pieces that you can work under a heavier coat so that you stay warm but can peel off the layers as the day gets warmer.

You know that one of my rules is to shop in your closet .

Looking for new combinations in your closet will mean that you might find you don't need as many new spring items. To give you an idea of what I mean I recently felt like I needed some color instead of my dull black and gray. I added a deep red tee shirt to my cute Bandolino Blu straight jeans and put on a gray soft cardigan with it. I wore cute black flats with that. It looked great and was fresh and new for me. I had all the pieces, I just went looking for a fresh combination. So shop in your closet now for a wonderful pick me up. It will infuse newness into your tired winter wardrobe and get you in the mood for spring. The best part of this quick style boost, it will cost you nothing!

I have been out and about scouring for a wonderful outfit to wear for my BIG 50 birthday this month and I LOVE the colors and styles that are already out. These colors have infused newness into my tired winter wardrobe already. Will post pics on my web page!

TIME: 6pm

SUBJECT: WHO WEARS THE PANTS?

COST: $20 PLEASE RSVP

I recently had a lady shop with me at my sale whose pants were definitely too short. I asked (of course) and she said she buys petites so that she does not have to hem. Well that does not work! So come and learn what works and why you get "smiley face" and "saggy butt". Ann Taylor has reverted to the styles we all loved a few years ago. Come and learn which style fits your shape best.
